Requirements for Acceptance as a Student!

Type of applicants - Potentially Accepted

- Those who are willing and ready to commit to long-term training (12 months minimum)
- Those who foresee receiving musical training for at least one year or more!!
- Those who are interest in learning Jesus/Gospel/Christian music (NO ANTI-JESUS training material accepted!)
- Those who are able to commit to continual weekly home work!
- Those who are sure there will be no repeated lesson conflicts with other personal pursuits!
- Those who have no interruptive future plans that will interfere with your first 12 month of musical training!

Type of applicants - Potentially Unaccepted

- Those who are only interested in temporal training just to satisfy a momentary thrill (Probably not your calling!)
- Those whose general interest is to just to pass away time or take training for personal pleasure!
- Those who doesn't perceive being a musician as a God-directed calling into the music ministry!
- Those who aren't serious about investing into the proper equipment to train on (Nothing-in - nothing-out)
- Those who secretly plan to use musical training as a crutch or prerequisite to doing secular music!
- Those who may have a spouse that is insecure about you taking private (In-home) training
- Those who have a problem with submitting to teacher/training authority!
- Those who are not comfortable with being trained by a Minister of the Gospel!
- Those who cannot be consistent with weekly training due to frequent traveling or other personal agenda!

You should wait before calling (Unless needing advice in choosing in choosing or purchasing an instrument)

- Until your personal schedule has been organized as to not conflict with week-to-week lessons!
- Until you have predetermined your ability to finance your musical training consistently week by week!
- Until you have invested into the proper instrument to learn on! (I can advise you on choosing the proper equipment)
- Until you have pre-coordinated your children school schedule with arriving on time to for music lessons!
- Until you can afford the initial tools and supplies needed to start your training and do homework at home!
- If you have a denominational problem with using song choices that emphasis the name “JESUS”!
